The Crimean War: 1854-1856 (Essential Histories series Book 2) Geoffrey Jukes

This bitter war between Russia and Turkey, aided by Britain and France, was the setting for the stuff of legends. This book details the gallant yet suicidal Charge of the Light Brigade, now immortalised in film, in the words of Tennyson, 'Into the Valley of Death rode the Six Hundred'.

It relates the reports made by the first real war correspondent, William Russell of the London Times, reports which served only to highlight the army's problems and memorialises the heroic deeds of Florence Nightingale, who struggled to save young men from the most formidable enemy in the Crimean War: not the Russians, but cholera.

The Osprey Guide To... series is a reworking of the popular Essential Histories series, now available as non-illustrated eBooks at a fantastic low price.

The maps and text remain the same, giving a strong historical overview of some of the most important conflicts and theatres of war from the ancient world through to modern times.
